

LASP

Latin American Studies Program

January 20th to February 14th - 2020

Universidad de
La Sabana

This four-week program

offers students and young professionals the opportunity to have an academic and cultural experience in Colombia,

one of the most diverse countries in Latin America.

For 2020,

students will be able to choose one of the following LASP courses:

War and Peace in Colombia

Latin American Fashion:
A cultural voyage

War and Peace in Colombia <

Description

The Peace Agreement between the Colombian government and the FARC-EP guerrilla has ended the longest armed conflict in Latin America. This Agreement has brought new and complex challenges that imply the formulation of different strategies that respond territorially to the historical, political and social contexts of the conflict. This is necessary in order to reconstruct the social fabric and consolidate peace environments. In this sense, this course will study the history of the armed conflict in Colombia, the basis of the transitional justice model that was implemented, the processes of peacebuilding and the current challenges.

Instructors

IVÁN GARZÓN VALLEJO

Associated Professor at Universidad de La Sabana and Senior Researcher according to classification of Colciencias. His issues of research are the relationships between politics and religion, historical memory and liberalism. Prof. Garzón Vallejo holds a Ph.D. in Political Sciences from Pontificia Universidad Católica Argentina and a Law degree from the Universidad Pontificia Bolivariana, where he also studied Philosophy. Author of four books and more than thirty academic articles on political theory and philosophy of law. He was Visiting Researcher at Georgetown University and Visiting Scholar at Missouri State University.

DIANA MARÍA RAMÍREZ SARMIENTO

Professor at Universidad de La Sabana. Holds a M.A. in Political Science, a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and a Law degree from Universidad de los Andes, Colombia. She also has a Diploma from the Program of Political Management, Public Management and Governance, from Universidad del Rosario, Colombia. Her issues of research are citizen participation, peacebuilding and social movements.

JUANA INÉS ACOSTA-LÓPEZ

Professor at Universidad de La Sabana. Holds a Law degree from Pontificia Universidad Javeriana; M.A in Human Rights and Democratization from Universidad Externado de Colombia and an LL.M in International Legal Studies from New York University. She is currently studying her JSD at Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México. She has been an agent in representation of Colombia and Bolivia before the Inter-American Court of Human Rights in more than 10 cases and participated as Deputy Director of the thematic area of the Office of the High Commissioner for Peace in the peace talks in Havana, Cuba. She has been an advisor to public and private entities and international organizations on issues of international law and human rights. She has been President and Vice President of the Colombian Academy of International Law and has several publications on issues of international human rights law, and transitional justice.

The course will cover the following topics:

- A country that is trying to abandon the war
- 1960's: the origins of the guerrillas.
- A country that strives for making peace more than war
- Introduction to Peace Agreement
- Negotiation process in Havana, Cuba
- Transitional justice
- Peacebuilding strategies from the communities
- Current challenges of the post conflict and territorial peace (overview)
- Murders of social leaders: the risks of citizen participation in Colombia

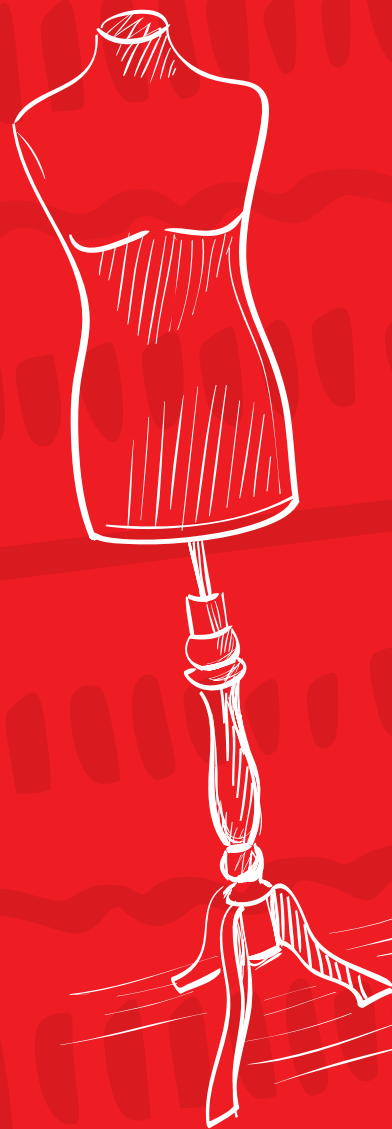

> Latin American Fashion: A cultural voyage

Description

Since the past five years Latin American fashion is treading strong on international events and fashion runways. A new generation of designers - inspired by its origins and culture - has successfully begun conquering the world thanks to its unique talent, fresh ideas and raw materials. Let's voyage through this amazing cultural Latin American fashion experience.

The course will cover the following topics:

- Latin America cultural overview
- Fashion & culture
- The language of fashion - workshop
- Latin American culture: the evolution of style
- The identity in Latin American cultures and fashion
- Latin American Jewelry
- The fashion system: from design process to consumers
- The growing and consolidation of Latin American fashion

The Instructor

The course will be led by Camila Villamil Navarro, a Colombian Social Communicator and Journalist from La Sabana who has more than 5 years of experience working in the fashion industry as a fashion consultant, content creator and social media strategist.

Thanks to her blog So Sophisticated, Camila has worked with many fashion and beauty brands and has been invited to the most important fashion weeks in Latin America and the United States including New York Fashion Week, Miami Fashion Week, Fashion Week Panama and Fashion Week Mexico City. Additionally, Camila has worked as a reporter for women's magazines such as Aló and Viva Lifestyle.

Currently, Camila teaches Fashion Journalism and Fashion and Contemporary Image to Social Communication and Journalism students at La Sabana.

The total cost of the program includes:

- Tuition fee
- 36 hours of English-taught academic content
- Airport pick-up
- Welcome lunch at Universidad de La Sabana
- City tour of Bogotá plus cultural activities every week
- 60 hours of Spanish language
- Farewell lunch
- Home-stay accommodation in Bogotá.
- Includes: individual bedroom, breakfast, dinner and laundry service once a week or washer available on site.
- Transportation to and from field visits and cultural activities

→ Language of instruction: English (B1 / B2 level required).

Participants are required to have international health insurance that covers both accidents and illnesses for the full length of stay in Colombia.

Fees

Partner universities:

2000 USD

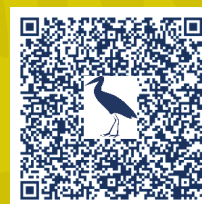

Non-partner universities:

2500 USD

For information about dates, course contents, testimonies and online application, visit our website

<https://www.unisabana.edu.co/internacional/>

Internacionales La Sabana

@LaSabanaAbroad

Contact:

lasp@unisabana.edu.co

Ph: +57-1-861 5555 Ext: 11331

Chía, Colombia, South America

