INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL

Since the summer of 2007, EICEA offers an International Summer School made up of a series of short courses taught by highly qualified professors which aims to enhance its participants' global vision.

Professors from Australia, the United States, Canada, Mexico, Argentina, Spain, France, Germany, United Kingdom among other countries, have joined the Summer School and taught courses in topics such as Logistics, Marketing, Sustainability, International Business and Commerce, Creativity and Culinary Arts.

The duration of the courses is between 25 and 36 hours, and lectures are held at the university campus. Participants include undergraduate students, lecturers and professionals who have a special interest in getting broader knowledge of their areas of study/work.

Besides teaching, the lecturers get to spend quality time with our researchers, finding common grounds for future research and academic projects, as well as getting in touch with Colombian culture, landscapes, gastronomy and people.
